ABOUT THE PROGRAMME

"Leadership is a relationship between those who aspire to lead and those who choose to follow"

One of the current challenges of every company is to identify the kind of leadership style, trait and technique that is most effective in the 21st century in the VUCA Business (Volatile, Uncertain, Complex and Ambiguous) environment. In a global study of 389 leaders from 28 countries, the Centre for Creative Leadership found that 83% of leaders believed that the definition of effective leadership has changed in the last 5 years from autocratic and directive leadership to more of a participative and democratic approach. The leadership style seems to be evolving with time to suit the turbulent situations faced by the leaders. The global leadership forecast for the year 2015 rated India high on both current leader quality and future bench strength of leaders. With several Indians heading various MNC's across the globe, it becomes very significant to understand their leadership role and the difference they make to their organisations.

In this context, Kristu Jayanti School of Management organizes a one day MDP on 'Contemporary Corporate Leadership' with an objective to impart the latest insights and perspectives on the role of leadership in corporate world.
